bullying:

When someone repeatedly and purposefully says or does hurtful things to another person who has a hard time defending himself or herself

Bullying can be physical or verbal. Spreading false rumors, or not letting someone be part of the group is also considered bullying. Sending hurtful messages through cell phones or the internet is a very serious issue.

Your child's school is using the Olweus Bullying Prevention Program.

This research-based program reduces bullying in schools. It also helps to make school a safe and positive place where students can learn.

SCHOOLS

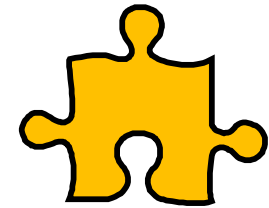

PARENTS

Although this program takes place at school, we need your help, too! You can talk to your child about bullying and the anti-bullying rules at his or her school.

1. We will not bully others.
2. We will try to help students who are bullied.
3. We will try to include students who are left out.
4. If we know someone is being bullied, we will tell an adult at school or home.

Our schools are looking for ways to develop partnerships with community members to carry the anti-bullying message community-wide. Please display anti-bullying messages at your local restaurant, store, or place of worship.
